Living All-In for the Church

Being a disciple of Jesus means more than believing in Him; it means living for Him in His church. You can pray, read your Bible, or claim the name “Christian,” but without active involvement in the church, you’re on the sidelines. True disciples don’t just follow Jesus in their hearts; they commit to His body, the church, where faith grows and the gospel convicts.

In Matthew 28:19–20, Jesus commands, “Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.” This Great Commission isn’t for lone believers, it’s for a community. Discipleship involves going, baptizing, and teaching, all rooted in the church. Going means sharing the gospel alongside others. Baptizing brings people into the family of God. Teaching requires studying and living out Jesus’ commands together. The church is where disciples are made, through worship, study, and service.

I’ve preached long enough to see the difference. Those who engage are serving, teaching, praying, and grow stronger in faith. Those who stay distant often drift, their walk with Jesus feeling empty. Church involvement isn’t optional; it’s the soil where discipleship takes root. Hebrews 10:24–25 says, “Let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near.” The Greek word for “stir up” (paroxysmos) means to provoke, like spurring a runner to finish strong. Disciples need the church’s encouragement and accountability to stay faithful. Neglecting to gather means missing the growth God intends.

1 Corinthians 12:12–14 says, “The body is one and has many members... so it is with Christ. For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body—Jews or Greeks, slaves or free—and all were made to drink of one Spirit.” The church is Christ’s body, and every disciple is a member (hand, foot, or ear) with a purpose. The word for “members” (melē) means essential parts. Whether preaching or passing out bulletins, every role matters. Baptism joins you to this body, and sitting out isn’t discipleship, that’s like a hand refusing to work.

- To live as a disciple:
1. Show Up Consistently: Hebrews 10:25 says don’t neglect meeting. Attend worship and Bible study. Your presence strengthens others.
 2. Serve Faithfully: Every member has a role (1 Cor. 12:12). Volunteer to teach, greet, or clean. Service grows faith.
 3. Connect Deeply: Discipleship thrives in relationships. Join a small group or pray with members.
 4. Stay Accountable: Matthew 28:20 calls us to obey. Find a mentor or group to keep you on track.

Disciples live all-in for the church, where Jesus is with us (Matt. 28:20). If you’re distant, step in—serve, pray, engage. Be a disciple today.
